A. W. Wright of Ogden has commenced sult against James Cotton of San Francisco California, for a settlement in a partnership business and a dissolution of the same.

Mr. Wright alleges that he and Mr. Cetton entered into a partnership June 15, 1910, the partnership firm name being known as the Sunset Livestock Commission company, the purpose of the company being to transact a general commission business in livestock was understood that the partners hould share equally in the proceeds of the business and that each should do his part of the work connected with the handling of the business.

The plaintiff claims that the defendant has drawn more than his share of the receipts the sum amount-ing to $3,000, and for that reason he asks that the partnership be dissolved, the defendant be restrained from haudling the funds of the partnership, that an accounting be had and that a receiver be appointed to attend to the affairs of the partnership in making such settlement.

On an exparte showing, the court has granted the order restraining the defendant from interfering in any way with the affairs of the partnership, and has appointed T. D. Ryan receiver. The plaintiff furnished a bond of
